MONDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1835.

THIS DAY PUBLISHED, and for sale at the Counting Room of the MORNING POST, No 19 Water street, the TRIAL OF BEALS AND GREENE for an alleged Libel upon ALFRED W. PIKE.

Our Trial for a Libel upon Mr ALFRED W. PIKE, will be published this morning. In the Report nothing is extenuated, nor ought set down in malice. Independent of the interest which the report possesses, on account of the standing of the Plaintiff, it will also be found interesting as illustrative of the misery an orphan child may suffer even in our own supposed philanthropic times.

The President's Message.—We announced on Saturday that we had made arrangements to receive this paper by Express—circumstances have since transpired which render an explanation to our readers necessary. Some four or five weeks since we met the Publisher of the Atlas in the street, and asked him if he were disposed to unite with us in procuring a copy of the Message by Express from New Haven, to which he replied in the affirmative, but said it was not necessary at that early day to enter into any definite arrangement respecting it. Two weeks ago we received a verbal message from him requesting us to say if we were willing to run an Express for the above purpose from New York, instead of New Haven, as at first contemplated? At this moment we were upon the point of starting for Salem to attend a trial in which we were one of the parties most interested, and referred Mr Haughton to our partner, Mr Beals, for a reply, adding, that if Mr B. were willing we had no objections. Mr H., however, did not call upon Mr B., and we heard no more about it until Tuesday or Wednesday last, when Mr H. called at our office and urged us to unite with him agreeably to his proposition to extend the Express to New York—as this was an undertaking which would incur a large expense, we told him that we could not answer him positively without consulting our partner—he pressed it upon us strongly, and said if we would consent, he would bear two thirds of the final loss, should there be any—this proposition we made known to Mr Beals, who expressed his willingness to accede to it, and the agreement was finally settled upon this basis between Mr Haughton and ourselves. It was then suggested that we should each announce to our readers and the public, some days in advance of its expected reception, that we had made an arrangement to receive the Message on Wednesday, without any allusion to each other, our partnership for the purpose being a private business affair. On Friday we saw it proclaimed in the N. Y. Courier and Enquirer that the Publisher of the Atlas would convey the Message from that city to Boston in thirteen hours, we believe that was the time, &c., and considered this as making the plans entered into public on the part of our neighbor, and presumed he would allude to them in his own paper on Saturday; accordingly we wrote the notice which appeared in our last paper, as we sincerely thought, in consonance with the understanding between us, but were surprised to learn from Mr Sargent, junior editor of the Atlas, on the morning of its publication, that Mr Haughton was offended at its appearance—we expressed our astonishment at this, and said to Mr S. that if we had misapprehended Mr H.'s wishes in the case, we would make any explanation that might be proper and satisfactory, having no desire to say or do any thing about the matter which should not be mutually agreeable. Mr S. replied that Mr H. was sick at his house, and that he would see him and converse with him upon the subject; we presumed a slight explanation would reconcile the whole difficulty, but were disappointed. At 3 o'clock a note was received from Mr Sargent stating that Mr Haughton deemed the paragraph published in the Post a violation of the agreement! and consequently he should no longer consider us as having any claim to the Express, or connection with it—we called several times at the Publishing office of the Atlas, and once at Mr Sargent's office, for the purpose of remonstrating against what we considered Mr H.'s unfair and unjustifiable conduct, but were unable to find Mr S. We were confident that Mr H. was laboring under some very erroneous conception of our purpose in doing what we had done, but, as he was indisposed at his lodgings, we did not think it proper to intrude upon him there for the purpose of any further conversation upon the subject, and accordingly abandoned the design of running any Express at all, as it was then too late to make other arrangements from those originally agreed upon. We cannot believe that Mr H. availed himself of the slight excuse he assigned for depriving us of the advantages of the Express, merely that his paper might be the "only" one which should receive the Message at the early date anticipated, for we have often before been engaged with him in similar enterprises, in the fulfillment of which we have always found him perfectly frank and honorable, which increases our astonishment at the course he has now adopted. This, we know, is a long story about a small matter, but we thought the detail of facts we have given necessary, in order to convince our readers that our promise to deliver them the Message at an early time was not made without a justifiable confidence that we should be able to fulfill that promise, and as the following paragraph, which appeared in the Transcript on Saturday evening, impliedly imputes to us deception and falsehood:—

"The only arrangement for the transmission of the President's Message, by Express, from Washington to this city, has been made by the proprietor of the Atlas."

The editor of the Transcript might have had the grace either to have qualified his assertion, or taken the trouble to inquire into facts more thoroughly. The allusion in this paragraph is direct to the one published by us on Saturday, and as we said above, implies deception and falsehood on our part, the justice of which implication we fearlessly appeal to the public to decide upon.

An account of a very mysterious and curious affair will be found upon our First Page.

A report of the Meeting of the Democratic Association, on the first instant, with the Address of Mr Josselyn, will be published to-morrow.

MR. VAN BUREN.

This gentleman has been called the arch intriguer, the great Magician—so will all those who advocate the rights of the people, against such as would encroach on them, always be calumniated. It was so with Jefferson, with Madison, with Jackson; and it has now become so common a fact, that abuse proceeding from the same quarter, will be, hereafter, the best of recommendations; and the enemies of popular rights will be obliged to find some other device. The people have become now too enlightened for these old tricks, which were borrowed from times of ignorance and blind credulity.

Mr Guizot, the historian of Charles 2d, says—"Then, as now, there was a great paper war. The advantage, though not in argument, has always been with the monarchical and aristocratic; the court and church party. But this advantage was in sarcasm, irony, calling names, the invention of deprecatory insinuations, in giving to calumny the form of piquant anecdote, or a spirited story; to a lie, a courtly, graceful, or ingenious air; in the art of blackening characters; in a word, in all that relates to what Benham aptly terms the dirt-flinging argument." This may be variously accounted for. It appears naturally the characteristic of the weaker party.

Before the liberty of the Press was dreamt of in France, they had there a tolerable substitute, used for the castigation of persons, and the criticising of acts, which the law could not, or dare not, reach. It was by light poetic effusions, called Epigrams, commonly circulated about in manuscript. This, with a proud and sensitive people, was a powerful weapon; for a Frenchman dreads ridicule more than death. It is for that reason they are now so restive under the ridiculous position in which they have placed themselves in regard to the payment of our claims. But this weapon is not quite so powerful in our country. There may be some of our mushroom aristocracy, humble imitators of their sublime and finished masters in Europe, who may chuckle over an ingenious caricature of men, too far above them to be reached by any moral means within their power; men whom they would worship in their lucid moments, if sordid interest and envy did not say, damn them. The number with whom this "dirt-flinging argument" has influence is not very great. Our solid, argumentative, truth-loving farmers and mechanics, see but little of this miserable expedient, and when they do, they are not convinced by a laugh; they look into character with their own eyes; and if a candidate for office be called, vaguely, a magician, and intriguer, they are apt to ask the why and the when—and if the accusers cannot put their finger on the sore place, they do not believe it exists; and the calumny rests on its perpetrators.

No stronger illustration of this fact need be sought for, than the very rapid advancement of Mr Van Buren's political fortunes since it has pleased his unworthy rivals to use such unworthy means to put him down. They have done more towards making his good qualities known to the people, than his warmest friends could have done; for they have proved that he has no very bad ones, by omitting to publish them. We can grant them nothing on the score of modesty or reserve; for they have said of some other political opponents, such things as the more decent democrats, who can afford to be generous, would not whisper in relation to their demi-gods.

It is known to the writer, that a gentleman, who has labored with great activity in the politics of New England, and some other States, and who has been, within two or three years past, often in company with Mr Van Buren, has never received any other attention from him than an exchange of cards; while the same person received pointed civilities from others high in rank. He never exchanged a word with him on politics. Now, this does not look much like intrigue; for although we northerners do not court our constituents quite so openly as some others do, still we are very civil about election times to the most humble voters. The person alluded to, must have felt himself highly flattered by this distinguished neglect. It may be considered a piece of delicacy rather uncommon in these times.

FRANKLIN.

The meeting of the friends of Mr Webster, at Mas sic Hall, N. Y. on Friday evening, was organized by the election of Mr Benjamin Strong as Chairman, and some half dozen gentlemen as Secretaries. Mr Hamilton Fish read the resolutions, after which the meeting was addressed by Messrs. Chandler Starr, Isaac Hone, Hugh Maxwell, S. A. Foot, and James Watson Webb.

The Resolutions express a high regard for all the numerous Whig candidates, but a decided preference for Mr Webster.

Pennsylvania.—The Legislature of this State assembled at Harrisburg on Tuesday last, and was organized by the choice of Mr Middlesworth, Esq. an Anti-Mason, as Speaker of the House, and Thomas H. Cunningham, Esq. a Muhlenburg man, Speaker of the Senate. The former received 68 of 98 votes.

Mr Lowell has published a Card which contradicts some of the statements given in the account in this paper on Friday last of the rencontre between himself and Mr Vans: he says—

"Having been grossly insulted by Mr Vans, and declining to notice the insult, he pursued me for some distance, and finding I was resolved not to be involved in a street brawl by any verbal provocation, he inflicted upon the back of my head, from behind, a severe and stunning blow, and then, and not till then, I turned upon the assailant and endeavored to defend my life."

Judge Shaw, sentenced the Rev. Geo. B. Cheever, on Friday last, to thirty days imprisonment in the common Jail, to furnish a bond of $1,000, with sufficient sureties, to keep the peace for the term of two years, and to pay the costs of the prosecution, which amount to about $130.

The Niles, (Michigan) Gazette says,—"We are gratified to learn that our venerable townsman, JOHN VARNUM, Esq. has received the appointment of Justice of the Peace for this county." This we presume is the Mr Varnum who was formerly a member of Congress from Essex North, in this State, and who recently removed to the West.

The New York Journal of Commerce will run a daily Express from Washington during the session of Congress.

Gov. McDuffie's Message.—We have been reading Gov. McDuffie's Message to the Legislature of South Carolina—it is an eloquent paper, but full of the errors of the South. After referring to the subject of Slavery as it is in South Carolina, he thus points out the duties which the North owes the South—U. S. Gaz.

"It is in this aspect of the subject that it challenges our grave and solemn consideration. It behoves us, then in my opinion, to demand respectfully, of each and every one of the slave-holding States, 1. A formal and solemn disclaimer, by its legislature, of the existence of any rightful power, either in such State or the United States in Congress assembled, to interfere in any manner whatever, with the institution of domestic slavery in South Carolina. 2. The immediate passage of penal laws, by such legislatures, denouncing against the incendiaries of whom we complain, such punishments as will speedily and forever suppress their machinations against our peace and safety."

"Though the right to emancipate our slaves, by coercive legislation, has been very generally disclaimed by popular assemblies in the non-slaveholding States, it is nevertheless important that each of those States should give this disclaimer the authentic and authoritative form of a legislative declaration, to be preserved as a permanent record for our future security. Our right to demand of these States the enactment of laws for the punishment of those enemies of our peace, who avail themselves of the sanctuary of their sovereign jurisdiction, to wage a war of extermination against us, is founded on one of the most salutary and conservative principles of international law."

Every State is under the most sacred obligations, not only to abstain from all such interference with the institutions of another, as is calculated to disturb its tranquility, or endanger its safety, but to prevent its citizens or subjects from such interference, either by inflicting condign punishment itself, or by delivering them up to the justice of the offended community."

As between separate and independent nations the refusal of a State to punish these offensive proceedings, against another, by its citizens or subjects, makes the State so refusing, an accomplice in the outrage, and furnishes a just cause of war. These principles of international law, are universally admitted, and none have been more sacredly observed by just and enlightened nations."

The obligations of the non-slaveholding States to punish and repress the hostile proceedings of their citizens against our domestic institutions and tranquility, are greatly increased, both by the nature of those proceedings, and the fraternal relation which subsists between the States of this confederacy."

For no outrage against any community can be greater than to stir up the elements of servile insurrection, and no obligation to repress it can be more sacred than that which adds to the sanctions of international law the solemn guarantee of a constitutional compact, which is at once the bond and the condition of our Union."

The liberal, enlightened and magnanimous conduct of the people in many portions of the non-slaveholding States, forbids us to anticipate a refusal on the part of those States to fulfill these high obligations of national faith and duty. And we have less reason to look forward to this inauspicious result from considering the necessary consequences which would follow, to the people of those States and of the whole commercial world, from the general emancipation of our slaves. These consequences may be presented, as an irresistible appeal, to every rational philanthropist in Europe or America."

The Washington Correspondent of the Journal of Commerce says—

"The two elected Senators from Michigan are already here, Messrs. Lyon and Norvell. Seats have been prepared for them on the floor of the Senate Chamber, and they are to be heard in favor of the claim of Michigan to admission into the Union, whenever the question comes up. I see no ground upon which a compliance with her demand can be refused or delayed."

The Ohio and Michigan controversy is likely to excite much ill blood, and to be very difficult of adjustment. Both parties are determined to stick to their guns, as long as there is a shot in the locker. A chance will be afforded to Congress this Winter to do what they ought to have done twenty or thirty years ago—settle and define the boundary line between the two States. It is doubtful, however, whether Ohio will now acquiesce in a decision, whether by Congress or the Supreme Court, adverse to her pretensions."

The new actors who have recently come out, don't appear to meet with very good success—Miss Kemble's ingratitude has rendered Jonathan a little more petulant. The N. Y. Transcript of Thursday contains the following paragraph:—

"The Classical 'Jack Reive'—The Evening Star says that after the fall of the curtain at the Park theatre, on Tuesday evening, 'Jack felt the approving smiles of the audience, and was called out.' He made his appearance, 'quite sober,' as the Major assures us, and delivered a 'laconic speech,' which ran thus:—'Ladies and gentlemen, you have the thanks of a true British heart—yes, by G—d, liver, lights, and all!' What a pity Mrs Trollope was not there to rail at the vulgarity of an American audience! We have no doubt the boxes will be crowded with fashionables on his next appearance."

The Mammoth Cheeses now being exhibited in New York, have produced a great sensation—the Board of Assistants took it in high dudgeon because they were invited to see them. One of the papers says—"let the Proprietor cut one of his cheeses, and place it on the board, with a few bottles of old wine, and then renew his invitation to the Board of Assistants, and they will agree, non con, to assist in its demolition."

Carrying the War into Africa.—On Wednesday night some dexterous thieves stole away the outer door of the sub-watch-house, in the third district New York, although a party of watch-men were in the watch-house at the time.

A man by the name of Stiles was found dead in Sebring's Alley, N. Y. on Thursday morning last—Verdict of the Jury—"death by starvation!"

Miss Maria M. Wingate, daughter of the Hon. Moses Wingate of Haverhill, Mass. a young lady of rare accomplishments and abilities, died in Philadelphia a few days since, where she had gone for the benefit of her health.

The new Hotel at Worcester, Mass. composed in part of the late mansion of Gov. Lincoln, will be opened this day.

Fire at Weymouth.—On Friday last about half-past 12 o'clock, a carpenter's shop belonging to and occupied by Messrs Curtis was destroyed by fire, with the barn owned by Mr Whitcomb Porter. It is supposed to have caught from a stove while the workmen were at dinner.—Trans.

The Land Pirates.—It is stated in the Trenton Gazette, that James Mathis and Reuben Grant, have each been convicted in the United States District Court, of plundering the schooner Henry Franklin.

The Bank of Maryland has published a statement which shows a deficit of half a million of dollars.—Morals and worth!

The merchant seamen of England, including the fishermen, are computed at 250,000, besides their families.

Later from England.—The packet ship Josephine at New York, brings London papers to the 30th and Liverpool to the 31st October. Six days later. They contain however little of importance.

There is nothing new from France relative to the indemnification.

The prosecution of M. Sarrazin, editor of the Nouvelles Minerve, and of General Latapie, for a libel on the Duke de Broglie, has terminated in a conviction. The libel was an assertion that the duke caused to be inserted in the ministerial paper, articles relating to the war in Spain, which were furnished by one of the adherents of Don Carlos. The court declared, in the progress of the trial, that it had, and would exercise, the power to prevent evidence being given of the truth of the offensive allegations.

The house of Andrew Taylor & Co., of Liverpool, have stopped payment for £130,000. They show assets sufficient to pay the whole amount.

The affairs of Algiers appear to cause some uneasiness in France. Serious disasters are said to have befallen the French, and large reinforcements are demanded.

Changes in the French cabinet continue to be spoken of.

Measures are in progress for the formation of a protestant association at Liverpool.

The Greenland fisheries this year have been almost wholly unproductive. Oil had much risen in price, in consequence.

Important from France.—The New York Commercial Advertiser, of Saturday, contains an account that the American Charge des Affaires at Paris had made a formal demand of the French Government for the payment of the American claim, which was refused, and would not be paid until satisfactory explanations had been made by the President, of his message to the last Congress.

Paris, Oct. 27.—On Sunday there was a long conference between the Minister of Finance and M. de Broglie, in consequence of a visit made by the Charge des Affaires of the U. S. to the President of the Council. It was said that M. Humann persisted in resolving not to make any payment without obtaining clear and absolute satisfaction.

The London Public Ledger of the 28th, says—"It was stated on Change yesterday, at a late hour, that the bills drawn by the American Government on part of France in liquidation of the American claims had been refused acceptance."

The Baltimore American states, that the Portuguese prisoners who were brought into Norfolk in June last, on a charge of piracy, will be set at liberty. The Grand Jury of the U. S. Circuit Court sitting at Richmond had before them last week the indictments sent to them by the District Attorney against these prisoners. The evidence being regarded by the Grand Jury as insufficient to sustain the indictments, they were all returned "not true bills," and the prisoners will consequently be discharged. The attendance of the principal witness relied on by the United States, and on whose testimony the prisoners were committed could not be procured, he having left the United States.

Pop Emmons, of Washington, fired a pistol at his landlord, Major Harrison, who had taken possession of his premises illegally; but the ball passed through a pane of glass. A Mr Mallingley, brother-in-law to Harrison, fired at Pop Emmons, and missed him. Emmons then popped out of the house with only his cloak as a covering, and ran across the Pennsylvania Avenue, Mallingley after him. He took refuge in an opposite house, dressed himself, and returned to his premises, where Mallingley caught and threw him over the fence. The Police bound over all the parties, and refused to take the oath of Pop Emmons on the ground that he denies the existence of a God.—N. Y. Star.

Health of New Orleans.—There were eighty-three interments in New Orleans in the week ending the fifteenth instant, being twenty-five less than the previous week.

The Richmond Enquirer states that the jail at Orange Court House was burnt on the 22d ult., by a lad confined for the crime of horse stealing.

John B. Trevor, Esq. has been elected Cashier of the Philadelphia Bank, in place of Quintin Campbell, Esq. resigned.

Ript and loss of life.—A serious disturbance took place a few days ago, between some laborers on the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, and several citizens of Norristown, Pennsylvania. It resulted in the death of Mr Henry Trunboer, one of the inhabitants of the former place.

The Michigan Legislature adjourned on Saturday, the 14th ult., to meet again on the first Tuesday of February, unless called together at an earlier day by Executive proclamation.

The Camden papers complain that the Camden and Amboy Railroad has quadrupled the fare from Philadelphia to Trenton, rising from twenty-five cents to a dollar.

Dedication.—The "Old South Meeting House" in Beverly, lately remodelled and modernized, was dedicated anew on Thursday last.

NOTICE.—PHILADELPHIA, ENGINE CO. No 18.—You are reminded that the regular monthly meeting of the Company will be held at the Engine House, THIS EVENING, at 7 o'clock. A punctual attendance is requested, as business of importance will come before the meeting.
